

Merge Two Researcher Profiles

If you go to Administrator you will find a menu called “Merge Researchers Profile”.

FLOSSE | Longitudinal Studies

Administration Tools

Please select an operation from the main menu.

This function moves all publications from the old reference ID to the new reference ID. Following are the steps to merge the two researchers' profiles:

</dspace-admin/merge-researcherprofile.jsp>

1. Please add Old Source: ID or Ref
2. Please add New Source: ID or Ref

NSLHD Research

Merge Researcher Profiles

Please add old and new Reference ID

Old Source: ID or Ref

New Source: ID or Ref

Please enter Correct Reference ID

Go to the NSLHD home page

Note that Source ID or Ref is the reference id of the Author. To get a reference ID, please visit Author's profile. Please follow the screenshot below:

The screenshot shows the Prosentient Libraries website. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Collections', 'Research Outputs', 'Author profiles', 'Departments & Affiliations', and 'Help'. The main header area says 'NORTHERN SYDNEY LOCAL HEALTH DISTRICT Libraries' and 'Springboard • Research Repository • 24/7 Access'. Below this is a 'NSLHD Research' section. The author profile for 'ken' is displayed, showing 'Source ID: rp08188' and 'Source Reference: rp08188'. A red arrow points to the URL '192.168.1.62:8070/nslhdjspui/cris/rp/rp08188' in the browser's address bar. The profile includes tabs for 'Profile', 'Media', 'Indicators', and 'Other'. The 'Profile' tab is active, showing 'Credit Name: ken', 'Full Name: kenny poudel', and 'Email: kpoudel@prosentient.com.au'. Below this is a 'Publications' section with a search bar and filters. A single publication is listed: 'Representation of Women in Internal Medicine Specialties in North America, the United Kingdom, and Australasia; Cardiology's Outlier Status and the Importance of Diversity' by Zaman, Sarah; Shaw, Elizabeth; Ellenberger, Katherine; Rosa, Marned; Leung, Melissa; Kwan, Yu; Liang, Rhea; Banerjee, Shrilla; Bastian, Alexandra; Gulati, Martha; Hayes, Sharonne; Grines, Cindy; Mehran, Roxana; Burgess, Sonya; kenny poudel.

3. If the old or the new ID is incorrect, you will get an error message to enter the correct Reference ID.

4. If the old and new source ID (or Ref) is correct, and when you click on the button “update publication” the publications from the old source ID get merged into the new source ID.

Note that all the publications/items owned by the author with the old ref id get moved to the author with the new ref ID. For instance, if you click on the button “Update Publication” all the publications owned by old ref id E.g.: rp08186 will be moved to new ref id E.g.: rp08188. The new owner of those items/publications will be rp08188.

5. Then, the “Update Profile Information” button will be visible. Once you click this button, you can view both old and new profiles.
